5.2.18 A Huge Lesson for Everyone, Issues and Cover-ups

5.2.18 talking with Jesus

‘Father, there’s a lot of people that are adult and responsible.’

“You are adult and responsible too.” ‘But you said everyone has issues.’ “They do, some are deeper than others, some are bigger than others, some are taken care of already and some are not. There is no perfect person Janine.”

‘But Lord, isn’t it about perfection that the issues are about?’ “Issues, my love, are about not being perfect, they are about living in a fallen world ruled by the evil one. Issues are inherent to everyone, believers too. Because no one is perfect while living on earth. Oh yes, there are those that have most of their stuff together. There are those that have overcome many, many things. There are those that are healed of most of their issues. Healed so much, they appear not to have any issues at all. But appearances can be deceiving. Not everything is as it seems with so many people.

Some people, Janine, have learned very well how to cover up their anger, their fears, their hopelessness. Some have so successfully pushed them down, that they appear completely put together with no issues. Only I see the heart my girl, only I. Only I see what is truly going on inside each person. No one can hide from me. And yet I love each one. I am not shocked by, or ashamed of, my children. There is no one that is any different than the next.

Some clean up differently than others. Some have more privileges than others, but deep down, everyone is the same. You are all human.

That's why it's so important to love each other. Why it's so important to be kind to each other. As I've been telling you recently and you have read elsewhere, you never know what someone is going through and your smile can brighten someone's day. Your kind words, reaching out in prayer, can make the difference in someone's life.

You all will not get along with each other. And that's ok! Just as I made different ways of healing, so I made people different from each other. Why, even your fingerprints are not the same!

That is how you each have a story to tell, that is how you each have a calling. Because you are all different, one person can be touched in several different ways by different people.

Oh my Love, my girl, people are complex and each person needs only what you, what each other person, can give them. No one comes by your path by happenstance. Move in love, walk in love. Give joy, spread out your gifts. As each person does this, hearts will be knitted together, lives will be mended, issues will be healed.”

‘I feel pretty special Jesus, because you’re my Mom and my Dad. You teach me so well. And you’ll never die.’ Jesus smiled.
